Church Parley Report Given

Elimination of Overlapping and Competitive Efforts in Religion Advised

Co-operation on Missions and Sacrament Acceptance Held Essential

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP)—Elimination of needless overlapping and competition among churches in the interests of Christian unity is recommended in the final report emanating from the world conference on faith and order held at Lausanne, Switzerland, last August. The report was made public today by a committee headed by Bishop Charles H. Brent of Buffalo.

More effective co-operation among denominations in the foreign mission field and the willingness of all Christians to join "without regard to denominational differences" in the celebration of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper also are set forth as essentials of church unity.

"Unity of the church implies unity of faith," the report states, "but it does not mean uniformity. There must be space for diverse types of expression so that nothing of the rich variety which marks Christian experience will be lost and liberty of interpretation within the limits of the accepted faith will be preserved."

LUCKY MEN! PAID TO GO FISHING

Czecho-Slovakia Hires Anglers Who Have Nothing to Do but Sit All Day Long and Hook Greedy Pike Who Prey Upon Game Trout

SUDBOHEMEN (Czecho-Slovakia) Feb. 2. (AP)—Most fishermen pay gladly in license fees and cost of equipment for the pleasure of angling. But on Lake Rosomberka, great and most fruitful fishing center in Central Europe, the government hires a number of fishermen and pays them well.

They spend busy and profitable days doing nothing but fishing. There are no regulations against using nets, no red tape, no annoying game warden, no license. All they have to do is fish—and get paid for it.

There is only one snarl in the tackle. They are restricted to pike, carp and such species that destroy the game fish.

This is the reason why the annual fishing week which has just been celebrated here is such a success. Thousands of fishermen flocked from all parts of Europe, knowing that plenty of sport awaited them every time they dropped in their lines.

Fishing week is made an important social event. Ambassadors of the great powers to Prague, government officials, consuls, journalists and others all go fishing.

More than 100,000 pounds of fish have been caught in Lake Rosomberka in the last three years. The trout and salmon saved from the greedy jaws of carp and pike by the efforts of the paid fishermen are particularly plentiful.

purposes," the report states, "but it does not mean uniformity. There must be space for diverse types of expression so that nothing of the rich variety which marks Christian experience will be lost and liberty of interpretation within the limits of the accepted faith will be preserved."

WORK OF COMMITTEE
The report was formulated by a continuing committee after the conference at Lausanne found itself unable to agree on its ultimate form. It now will be sent to the various national church bodies in participating countries "for such consideration as they may desire to give it."

The report recommends to single method of union, but suggests that a council of churches "for practical purposes," might be evolved from organizations already existing. It welcomes the union of religious bodies of similar doctrine.

Experience has shown that it is possible for widely separated bodies to co-operate in movements toward union, without surrender of principle and with mutual profit," the report states.

MATTER OF COMPETITION
"Especially we commend to the churches the consideration of what steps can be taken to avoid the needless overlapping and competition in the local community, that in the future the churches may be able to do more effectively for the several communities, our existing unity in Christ may be manifest to the world."

A "recent increase in co-operation in the mission field," is referred to, and it is asserted that mission work would be more effective if the churches at home should grant them greater freedom of action.

"The hopes of union should not be frustrated by long-continued acquiescence in division at home, which makes it difficult to moderate how fatal division is in the new churches field," the report states.

COMMON PRAYER PLAN
It is suggested that a common prayer be sent out the name of the conference to be used "at a convenient time," by all Christian churches. It also would be used "as a common prayer" by all Christians and as churches, wisdom and courage to do this will.

WITNESS DEFIES OIL COMMITTEE

Stewart Will be Recalled Today for Questioning

Contempt Proceeding Faced If He Persists

Standard Official Fails to Recall Many Points

The two cases may be the same but the Senate for now has more attention than they should to the mineral composition of food or food products. They do not realize the harm that may result to the human system by the continued use of such roughage and this is particularly true and applicable in the case of invalids.

"If the system requires a roughage tonic, well and good. But the necessity for such diet should be ascertained, and also, again, its effect carefully watched before continued use."

Stewart then was excused until 10 a.m. tomorrow when the questions, perhaps framed slightly differently, will be put to him again. If he refuses to answer the committee will decide whether to recommend his immediate arrest and imprisonment for contempt or certify his case to the District of Columbia Supreme Court as was done when Sinclair refused to answer questions in March, 1924. As a result, Sinclair was convicted of contempt and sentenced to serve three months in jail.

MEXICAN TRIP FOREGOE
Stewart, formerly a business agent to Mexico from Cuba so as to testify, had been present in the committee room for two days watching Walsh and other committee members and his and other companies about accepting contracts which would have been for the purchase of Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company and out of which Continental made $3,000,000 in profit. It was known that he did not propose to submit himself to such a grueling without fighting further. He started to make a statement to the committee but before he had said a word, the committee was called to order by the speaker.

The Montana Senator carried Stewart out of the preliminary negotiations he had with the late A. E. Humphrey of Denver, for the purchase of the oil from the Mexico fields in Texas, and then led up to the New York city conference where the Continental transaction took place. On the way the witness and prosecutor had their heated argument. Stewart was almost benign with his expressions of "why, bless your heart," the next breath he was back at the Senator, telling him he wasn't interested in what "seems to be" or advising him that the committee wasn't interested.

OIL SOUGHT BY BLACKMER
When he came to recount what happened in the Vanderbilt Hotel in New York, Stewart said, "I was with the Blackmer, who was the one who was hammering the end of the finger in emphasis of his words. His every word was intended to make me buy Humphrey's oil, he was a solid by the operator that the Standard of Indiana could not have it; that it had been negotiated for by Henry M. Blackmer, chairman of the board of Standard Oil of Indiana, and subsidiary, and other people. Stewart went to Blackmer's room at the Vanderbilt and was told by Blackmer that if the Standard wanted the oil it would have to pay $1.75 a barrel for it. Stewart said he was willing to pay that price since it was 25 cents below the current market price. The contracts were drawn and Stewart and Sinclair guaranteed performance of the contract by Continental.

"Of course, I knew somebody was making a profit of 25 cents a barrel. Stewart almost shouted, 'But I wanted that oil and I knew that I could not get it at a lower price than $1.75.'

THEY WANTED THE OIL
"We wanted that oil and I was willing that half to go to the Prairie Oil and Gas Company if one-half went to the Sinclair crude. I made a contract. I took copies of it to the board of directors of my company and told them it was perfectly apparent somebody was making 25 cents a barrel. I told them that if that was material not to approve the contract. The stockholders of our company made a lot of money out of that proposition. It turned out to be profitable."

"Sinclair and I guaranteed this contract to show our faith in this matter. It was like guaranteeing a note and it is paid as it provides that oil be in the tanks before any payment was made."

Stewart then told the committee he would "be frank" and say that for years he had known H. E. Oster, president of the Continental, but conceded that he knew nothing about that company.

"It was organized only the day before," Walsh interjected.

Blackmer first informed him that the Continental was to get the oil, the witness continued, adding that he knew somebody was to get a brokerage on the oil.

"I didn't know who it was and I didn't care so long as we got the oil at a good price," Stewart asserted.

"Who do you imagine?" Walsh inquired.

"I'm not here to tell you what I imagined," was the retort.

"Did you ask Humphrey if you could get the oil for $1.50 a barrel?" "I can't recall; that was a long time ago."

"Then we are to understand from your testimony that Col. Humphrey told you you could get the oil for $1.50?" "I did not say that," the witness shouted as he shook his finger at Walsh.

After more wrangling back and forth, the prosecutor remarked that no doubt Stewart had "a good reason for signing that contract."

NEVER MADE A DOLLAR
"I never made a dollar out of this transaction in my life," the oil operator declared. "You are insinuating that I did, but I did not."

"I am not insinuating that," Walsh protested.

"Perhaps, I'm shooting off too fast."

Turning next to the purchase of the Continental contract for $3,000,000 by the Sinclair Crude and the Prairie Oil and Gas, when on its face the latter, and Mrs. Blackmer, left yesterday for a six-weeks' leave of absence in the United States. They will go by way of London.

ROUGHAGE FAD HELD HARMFUL

State Food Bureau Chief Says Coarse Diet Dangerous For Invalids

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2. (AP)—"Another dietetic fad today was blasted by Prof. M. E. Jaffa, chief of the Bureau of Food, and Drugs of the State Board of Health. First he denounced the anti-fat fad, then the anti-fat fad and now he takes a wallop at the roughage fad."

"Roughage faddists," declares Prof. Jaffa, "pay more attention than they should to the mineral composition of food or food products. They do not realize the harm that may result to the human system by the continued use of such roughage and this is particularly true and applicable in the case of invalids."

"If the system requires a roughage tonic, well and good. But the necessity for such diet should be ascertained, and also, again, its effect carefully watched before continued use."

Stewart then was excused until 10 a.m. tomorrow when the questions, perhaps framed slightly differently, will be put to him again. If he refuses to answer the committee will decide whether to recommend his immediate arrest and imprisonment for contempt or certify his case to the District of Columbia Supreme Court as was done when Sinclair refused to answer questions in March, 1924. As a result, Sinclair was convicted of contempt and sentenced to serve three months in jail.

Stewart conceded after much sparring that he knew at the time the Continental "seemed" broken and that the court at Chicago wanted O'Neil and Blackmer. "I don't recall that I did," he would say that you would have."

Replying to further questions, Stewart said he did not talk to O'Neil about the Continental matter. E. G. Seibert, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, was the one who talked to him before the committee being placed on the stand at the opening of the day's session.

Replying to Senator Walsh, Seibert said letters addressed to Stewart as the Standard Oil Company with reference to a $30,000,000 deal, protested Walsh.

HUMPHREY'S DEAL MEANT
The prosecutor was referring to the deal by which the Humphrey oil interests sold $30,000,000 worth of oil which figured in the transaction.

"They are under the control of Col. Stewart," Seibert replied.

"You see the president of the company, can't produce these letters for us?"

"I can obtain them from Mr. Stewart, if he has them."

Which director was it that questioned the offer of the Standard of Indiana to the Sinclair Crude Oil and Gas? Walsh pursued.

"I can't recall now; there was a general declaration that this was seven years ago."

"You knew that the Continental Trading Company was getting the 25 cents a barrel?" "Yes."

"Why didn't you tell us that yesterday? You knew some one was getting it."

"I intended to infer it."

OIL DEAL TRIPLED
The prosecutor took Stewart over the purchase by the Sinclair Crude and the Prairie of the Continental's contract for $3,000,000 in 1922. Under the contract the Continental still could have made $3,000,000 in profit. "Doesn't it seem extraordinary to you that you were able to buy a $3,000,000 contract for $3,000,000?"

"I thought that whoever made it had a good reason," Seibert replied.

"What difference did that make?" The Continental had a contract to buy at $1.50 a barrel and sell at $1.75. Don't you realize that your answer was very foolish?"

"I had nothing to do with the making of that contract," Seibert snapped.

"Who are the principal stockholders of your company?"

"The University of Chicago, the Rockefeller Foundation and the employees of the Standard of Indiana with their stock in trust."

"Do you feel that you did your full duty to those stockholders?" "I do."

"I do not recommend yourself to a position of responsibility," Walsh said, closing his questioning.

LEGALITY OF JURY SHADOWING ARGUED
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—Whether the mere shadowing of a Federal Court jury is in itself unlawful or in contempt of the court today assumed a more important position in the criminal contempt proceedings against Harry H. Sinclair, William J. Burns, and their four associates as counsel for the defense continued to advance their reasons why the charges should be dismissed.

Martin W. Littleton, counsel for Sinclair, and Charles A. Douglas, counsel for Burns, contended that the government had established only a single fact—the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury was shadowed by detectives in the employ of Sinclair, which was admitted by the oil operator at the outset.

Frequently during the arguments Justice Sweeney interrupted to ask that he be given any precedents in the case of the jury being shadowed by any member of the jury has been established. Littleton cited cases in New York, Missouri and Texas, where it had been held that an attempt to communicate with a juror is not in contempt unless it could be shown the juror himself had been communicated with. The justice remarked he had been unable to find any analogous case.

Daniel Thew Wright, counsel for Henry Mason Day, one of the defendants, will close the defense arguments tomorrow after Douglas concludes.

BARCELONA TAX STRIKE SPREADS

Hundred Thousand Said to Have Quit Work

Afternoon Papers Fail to Make Appearance

No Inclination Toward Violence Shown

BARCELONA (France) Feb. 2. (AP)—Reports reaching the frontier from Barcelona, Spain, indicate that a general strike there against payment of the newest income tax is spreading rapidly.

Afternoon papers failed to appear on the streets yesterday in the Spanish seaport and there were threats that this morning's paper also would not be published. More than 70 per cent of workmen in all trades are said to have left work in protest against the tax, many of them, however, striking in sympathy with comrades.

Authorities say that only one-third of the workmen have ceased their labors, although thirty-three factories in Sans, a suburb, have shut down completely and other districts are similarly affected.

Order has been maintained so far. It is reported, without difficulty, that workers showing no inclination for violence. Great forces of police and civil guards are on hand to prevent disturbances. The total number of strikers is estimated to exceed 100,000.

Authorities are keeping in constant touch with the central government at Madrid by telephone, and everything is in readiness to suppress any attempt at disorder.

The newest form of Spanish income tax applies to wages of 3250 pesetas (approximately $500) a year.

SINGING WHITE MAN OBTAINS
WORDS FOR Sulu DICTIONARY

BENKELEY, Feb. 2. (Exclusive)—American tunes of a "snappy nature" have enabled John M. Garvan, University of California political scientist, to begin preparation on a Sulu dictionary, which, when completed, will be one of the largest oriental language dictionaries extant.

The university attaché conducted his word hunt among the natives of the Philippine Islands over a period of twenty years. His Sulu word-gathering expedition is explained by himself as follows:

"Unarmed, I went among the supposedly savage Sulu tribes. I had only a slight knowledge of the language, and asked them to sing songs for me. I copied down the verses as they told them to me, quite without understanding what they meant. As payment for their trouble I repeated the songs they rendered to some lively American tunes. Word would pass through the village that a white man was singing at some one's hut. The natives, as a result, would flock to hear me, and incidentally to add their own songs to my rapidly growing collection."

Garvan's dictionary is being compiled from thousands of slips of paper which he personally gathered. He estimates that he has collected about 35,000 or 40,000 words.

TACOMA TO GET
SENATE HEARINGCommittee Considers Ship
Sale Protest TodayCity Charges Plan Forces
Monopoly OwnershipPosition on Interchange of
Ports Reversed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (Exclusive)—Charges preferred by Tacoma interests that the specifications under which the three Pacific Coast lines of the Shipping Board now are offered for sale tend to force monopoly ownership, will be aired before the Senate Commerce Committee tomorrow at a hearing on the resolution introduced by Senator Jones of Washington, which urged the Shipping Board to abandon the sale.

The request for hearings on the resolution came from Chairman O'Connor and Commissioner Myers of the Shipping Board, who arranged the hearing with Senator Jones with a request that he give Tacoma interests an opportunity to back up their charges.

The Puget Sound opponents of the sale on the present terms will be represented here by Judge Ben L. Grocup of Tacoma, former legal counsel at Seattle for the Admiral-Oriental Steamship Company, a subsidiary of the Dollar Steamship Company. The allegation that one company desires a monopoly of west coast shipping emanating from Tacoma is understood to be directed at the Dollar interests, so that Grocup is now in the position of presenting an accusation against his former employers.

CHANGE OF POSITION

Tacoma's opposition is directed in particular against the proposed sale of the American-Oriental Mail Line with seven ships now operating between the Orient and Puget Sound. The brief filed with the Shipping Board by Mayor Tennent of that city, representing a group of business men desiring to buy the Puget Sound line, declared that the interchange of ports permitted under the outstanding terms of sale would make independent operation of the line impossible. It insisted that with but seven ships the American-Oriental Mail Line must hold to its present routing while the line operated out of the Columbia River and California ports, having more ships, could come into Puget Sound after business.

This position represents a considerable change of attitude on the part of Tacoma leaders since permission to interchange ports first was considered by the Shipping Board with reference to the Pacific Coast lines. Under date of October 11, J. F. Hickey, president of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, wrote Chairman O'Connor, in part, as follows:

LEEWAY DEMANDED

"Another provision we desire to urge is greater freedom of ports on both shores of the Pacific. These vessels should be allowed the entire range of ports in the Orient, and also allowed to compete at all Pacific ports on the American side. We urge this because the foreign lines, with which we must compete, enjoy that privilege, and if these lines are to be made to pay they should be given every leeway to that end."

A telegram dated January 2, and sent by Hickey to Commissioner Myers of Portland, says:

"The recent action of the board apparently made by you revising earlier orders convinces us that you do not understand the situation, otherwise you would not have favored the clause allowing a diversion of California ships into Puget Sound service, thereby enabling them to kill the Puget Sound Line at their discretion."

Slush Fund and Elections Committees of Senate Come to Parting of Ways

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—The Senate's Slush-Fund and Elections committees came to a parting of the ways late today on the counting of the ballots in the Vare-Wilson senatorial contest from Pennsylvania. After conferring with Chairman Waterman of the Elections subcommittee, Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the Campaign Funds Committee, wrote to David B. Barry, the Senate sergeant-at-arms, directing him not to turn over any of the Pennsylvania ballots to the Elections Committee.

Barry was reminded by Reed that the ballots now in his custody and brought here from Philadelphia and Allegheny counties were seized under the authority of the Robinson resolution, which directed that the Campaign Funds Committee proceed to take over the ballots in the case of the contest between Eugene Meyer, Jr., George E. Cocke and Floyd B. Harrison to be members of the Federal Farm Loan Board, were confirmed late today by the Senate after three hours of debate.

The nomination of Roy A. Young of Minneapolis to succeed Daniel R. Crisinger as governor of the Federal Reserve Board also was confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—The Mississippi River's floods cannot be controlled, in the opinion of Capt. Hugh T. Crouse of Hickman, Ky., a veteran river boat pilot. Federal Radio Commission Nominations Considered

Six-Months License Limit Suggested as Law

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—Complaining of the extent of "jazz" programs offered over the radio, Senator Smith of South Carolina declared today he is tempted to offer an amendment to the pending radio measure to ban "jazz" music over the air.

"No matter where you turn the dial," Senator Smith told his colleagues on the Interstate Commerce Committee, "you get this same tin-pan noise. It is varied only by an occasional announcement about a spark plug. I am through trying."

The request for criticism of the commission, O. H. Caldwell of New York, one of the three commissioners whose nominations are pending, told the committee that the commission's goal is to deliver to every home in America, clear and satisfactory radio programs.

CUTTING DOWN POWER

Replying to a suggestion by Senator Dill, Democrat of Washington, co-author of the present Radio Act, that the power of stations booked up in chain broadcasting be diminished, Mr. Caldwell said that the commission is about to take up this question. He believes that it would be in the interests of listeners in the outlying districts if the chain broadcasting did not have all the cleared channels and high power and said the commission is giving thought to eliminating the chain broadcasting to local distributing channels.

EXTENSION FAVORED

A provision advanced by Senator Dill to limit broadcasting licenses to six months was added by the committee. The commission now can give licenses for two years, although its practice has been to make them for only six months.

The present commission, created a year ago, will expire on March 15, under the present law and its duties be absorbed by the Commerce Department, unless an extension is voted by Congress.

A bill to extend the life of the Radio Commission for another year, after March 15, was ordered favorably reported to the Senate today by the committee.

TACOMA TO GET
SENATE HEARINGCommittee Considers Ship
Sale Protest TodayCity Charges Plan Forces
Monopoly OwnershipPosition on Interchange of
Ports Reversed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (Exclusive)—Charges preferred by Tacoma interests that the specifications under which the three Pacific Coast lines of the Shipping Board now are offered for sale tend to force monopoly ownership, will be aired before the Senate Commerce Committee tomorrow at a hearing on the resolution introduced by Senator Jones of Washington, which urged the Shipping Board to abandon the sale.

The request for hearings on the resolution came from Chairman O'Connor and Commissioner Myers of the Shipping Board, who arranged the hearing with Senator Jones with a request that he give Tacoma interests an opportunity to back up their charges.

The Puget Sound opponents of the sale on the present terms will be represented here by Judge Ben L. Grocup of Tacoma, former legal counsel at Seattle for the Admiral-Oriental Steamship Company, a subsidiary of the Dollar Steamship Company. The allegation that one company desires a monopoly of west coast shipping emanating from Tacoma is understood to be directed at the Dollar interests, so that Grocup is now in the position of presenting an accusation against his former employers.

CHANGE OF POSITION

Tacoma's opposition is directed in particular against the proposed sale of the American-Oriental Mail Line with seven ships now operating between the Orient and Puget Sound. The brief filed with the Shipping Board by Mayor Tennent of that city, representing a group of business men desiring to buy the Puget Sound line, declared that the interchange of ports permitted under the outstanding terms of sale would make independent operation of the line impossible. It insisted that with but seven ships the American-Oriental Mail Line must hold to its present routing while the line operated out of the Columbia River and California ports, having more ships, could come into Puget Sound after business.

This position represents a considerable change of attitude on the part of Tacoma leaders since permission to interchange ports first was considered by the Shipping Board with reference to the Pacific Coast lines. Under date of October 11, J. F. Hickey, president of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, wrote Chairman O'Connor, in part, as follows:

LEEWAY DEMANDED

"Another provision we desire to urge is greater freedom of ports on both shores of the Pacific. These vessels should be allowed the entire range of ports in the Orient, and also allowed to compete at all Pacific ports on the American side. We urge this because the foreign lines, with which we must compete, enjoy that privilege, and if these lines are to be made to pay they should be given every leeway to that end."

A telegram dated January 2, and sent by Hickey to Commissioner Myers of Portland, says:

"The recent action of the board apparently made by you revising earlier orders convinces us that you do not understand the situation, otherwise you would not have favored the clause allowing a diversion of California ships into Puget Sound service, thereby enabling them to kill the Puget Sound Line at their discretion."

Slush Fund and Elections Committees of Senate Come to Parting of Ways

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—The Senate's Slush-Fund and Elections committees came to a parting of the ways late today on the counting of the ballots in the Vare-Wilson senatorial contest from Pennsylvania. After conferring with Chairman Waterman of the Elections subcommittee, Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the Campaign Funds Committee, wrote to David B. Barry, the Senate sergeant-at-arms, directing him not to turn over any of the Pennsylvania ballots to the Elections Committee.

Barry was reminded by Reed that the ballots now in his custody and brought here from Philadelphia and Allegheny counties were seized under the authority of the Robinson resolution, which directed that the Campaign Funds Committee proceed to take over the ballots in the case of the contest between Eugene Meyer, Jr., George E. ## DRYS GIVEN BID TO CONVENTION

Call Issued for Gathering at Chicago July 10, Next

Candidates to be Selected by 1537 Delegates

Move for New Alignment in Politics Announced

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (P)—The National Committee of the Prohibition party today issued a formal call for the party's national convention at Chicago, July 10, next.

Candidates for President and Vice-President will be selected and a platform drafted by 1537 delegates, D. Leigh Colvin, national chairman, announced.

"The invitation to send representatives to the convention is broad," he said. "Its purpose is to bring about a new alignment in American politics."

One thousand delegates are to be chosen from among members of the Prohibition party, he explained. The other 537, to be apportioned among the States on the basis of their electoral votes, will be "those not previously affiliated with the Prohibition party but who, after the conventions of the major parties, shall determine to sever their former political affiliations."

JUDGE DEFENDS COURT FREEDOM

Plays Anti-Injunction Bill at Open-Shop Meet

No Such Thing as Peaceful Strike, He Declares

Universal American Plan Support Forecast

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) Feb. 2. (Exclusive)—"In the security of the court and on the rights of the people as protected by the courts, the stability of the nation will continue," Judge John H. Shirk, eminent jurist of Oklahoma City, told the American Plan Open Shop Conference here today.

Judge Shirk was discussing anti-injunction measures in his relation to sanctity of the court, and he declared in that connection that "whenever we tamper with the judiciary we are more than playing with fire."

His leadership in the round-table discussion of anti-injunction proposals was the concluding feature of the opening day's program of the conference, which will continue in session throughout Friday and Saturday. A representative group of distinguished industrial experts from all sections of the country is attending the convention.

DELEGATES WELCOMED

Today's proceedings got under way slowly as the conference machinery began its movement. At the outset the delegates were assured of the city's hospitality in an address by Mayor William T. Atsop. He paid tribute to the members of the Associated Industries of Florida, which is sponsoring the conference here, with a declaration that those men have been leaders in the development of the city.

B. F. C. Morris of Oklahoma City, discussing the outstanding features of the open shop, said: "The time will come in America when all business and professional men, especially the professional men, will rally to the principles of the open shop."

Mr. Morris urged the inculcation of the spirit of the American plan into the youth of the country by widespread education of the benefits to the working men of the American plan.

"The open shop, after all, is the working man's friend," said B. F. Rees, chairman of the meeting, at the conclusion of Mr. Morris's talk, and in that statement the keynote of the conference was expressed.

GROUP INSURANCE

Boon Bowles of East St. Louis, Ill., led in a discussion of group insurance as a factor in industrial peace. He declared that "the effect of group life insurance does not wear off as time proceeds. The employees are constantly reassured that the employer's interest is genuine."

Participating in the discussion after the paper by Mr. Bowles were State Senator Albert E. Borton of San Francisco, W. H. Flagg of Philadelphia, L. E. Roark of Peoria, Ill., and E. W. McCullough.

Chairman Rees offered the suggestion that a committee be appointed to be named later, to investigate the question in full and report at the next meeting.

Judge Shirk in his address on the anti-injunction proposals, said: "The judiciary must be kept intact, must not be disturbed and must be looked upon with a respect of reverence and veneration."

THREAT OF PERIL

He spoke of the activities of the American Federation of Labor, the Sherman antitrust law and the Clayton amendment and then turned to the anti-injunction bill to be brought before Congress this session.

"When such is enacted, tying and staying the hands of the judicial branch, we will be in a perilous condition," he said.

"There is no such thing as peaceful striking and peaceful picketing. Union labor does not fear the executive except when the military is called. We know they have tampered with the legislative branch, but the courts must be protected, the courts must not be restrained by legislation or by the executive."

"Should such laws be passed, the courts would be powerless, unable to protect the intangible and inalienable thing that has built the nation."

Mexico Plans Air-Mail Line

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (P)—The Mexican government will take immediate steps to raise money for establishment of air mail routes from Mexico City to the border of the United States by raising the postage in Mexico from 8 to 10 centavos, the Postoffice Department was notified today by the Postmaster-General of Mexico.

The Postmaster said the projected route will extend from Mexico City to Nuevo Laredo. Further negotiations will be conducted between officials of the two governments before a decision is reached.

Postmaster-General New and other officials of the department believe that a route extending from Mexico City to Brownsville, Tex., via Tampico and Matamoros, will be the most desirable one.

Oakland Votes Business Tax

OAKLAND, Feb. 2. (Exclusive)—At a stormy session today in which arguments were based largely on personalities, the City Council voted final passage to an ordinance taxing all business pursuits and professions.

The tax was introduced as a means of making up the deficit that developed in the municipal budget during the first half of the fiscal year. The ordinance passed will tax virtually every business in the city—most of them on a sliding scale, according to the volume of business done, but a limited class of enterprises, according to a fixed rate. The proposal evoked violent opposition from the start.

FOLSOM TESTIMONY WILL START MONDAY

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2. (P)—Taking of testimony in the trial of the Thanksgiving Day riot leaders at Folsom Prison will begin Monday morning.

The alternate juror to sit through the case was obtained this afternoon, the information charging the six convicts with the murder of Guard Ray T. Singleton during the uprising was read and the opening statement made by Dist. Atty. McAllister. Judge Pullen delayed the calling of witnesses until Monday.

New Title Insurance Building

Ready for Occupancy
May Fifteenth
Offices now being leased

It is with a great deal of pride that TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY announces the opening date of its New Building, which is nearing completion, at 433 South Spring Street. The erection of this magnificent structure is another milestone in the steady growth of the organization. Its distinctive architecture and impressive size reflects the stability, integrity and reliability which has always distinguished the name TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY.

The new structure is one of the largest buildings in the city. Its construction is as substantial as the company by which it is owned. Every practical detail of office arrangement, illumination and decoration has been provided. Elevator facilities and all mechanical equipment is of the latest and most modern type.

Five floors are available for offices, a substantial portion of which space has already been leased. The location is convenient for lawyers, insurance companies, mortgage companies, financial concerns, and all others who should be located in the real business center of the city.

Our own garage will be convenient for those who occupy the building, and the privilege of one hour's free parking will be extended to the clients of the tenants in the building, thereby eliminating the difficulties of parking on the street in the business district. Those using the free parking area may drive into the garage from Spring Street and go quickly and without inconvenience directly from the garage floor to the elevator lobby where six high-speed elevators will take them to the upper floors.

Ample garage space is also provided for storage of the tenants' cars at reasonable rates.

Prospective tenants may plan their own subdivision of space, and a special architectural service is maintained for this purpose. No extra charge is made for minor subdivision partitions.

You will want to be in the building when you see it and learn how reasonably you can rent offices.

to Honor British Warrior

LONDON, Feb. 2. (P)—The body of Field Marshal Earl Haig, in a heap of poppies, reposed tonight in the quiet of St. Columba's, awaiting the morning when England will pay imperial honors to her dead soldier chief in Westminster Abbey.

All day long vast crowds, even more thousands than yesterday, passed through St. Columba's to look for the last time upon the face shrouded in flower-strewn coffin of Britain's hero warrior.

Despite periods of brisk rain, long columns of silent mourners stood outside the church patiently waiting for the fleeting minutes when they might pay respect to the man who led Britain's armies through the black days of the World War to ultimate victory.

Hearty all who went to the church were carried poppies made by disabled veterans.

RICE GROWERS HOLD
MOST OF LAST CROP

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 2. (P)—California rice growers still are holding approximately 3,150,000 bags of the 1927 crop, the Rice Growers' Association of California estimates. The total crop was 4,120,168 bags. The rice growers' association also reports that approximately half the stock on hand is either "wet" or "damp" rice, stock that contains from 16 to 28 per cent moisture. It likewise estimates approximately 1,000,000 bags will show damage because of its having been rained on.

AIR CRASH HURTS TWO;
ONE VICTIM MAY DIE

SHARON (Pa.) Feb. 2. (P)—Walter Piper, Chicago business man, was injured probably fatally, and Elmer Beardsley, also of Chicago, was hurt slightly when their airplane was forced down by a stalled motor on the Sharon Country Club golf course this afternoon. They are officials of the Beardsley-Piper Construction Company, Chicago. The plane was wrecked.

IRISH YOUTHS CALLED BY DAIL MANIFESTO

BELFAST, Feb. 2. (P)—Posters headed "manifesto from the Dail Eireann" calling on young men loyal to the republic to train for its defense have been pasted on public buildings throughout Donegal. The Dail Eireann is a title that a section of Irish Republicans claim sole right to use, regarding the present Parliament in Dublin and Belfast as usurpers.

GUARD KILLS ANOTHER IN JAIL BREAK

Shooting Takes Place as 16 Men Make Escape at Texas State Prison Farm

HUNTSVILLE (Tex.) Feb. 2. (P)—D. E. Long, guard at the Eastham State prison farm, twenty-eight miles from here, was shot and killed by Tom Boseman, another guard, who mistook him for a prisoner during a prison break today in which sixteen men escaped. Ten of the prisoners were recaptured during the afternoon.

Long, wearing white trousers like those supplied convicts, was ordered to halt in the dark by Boseman, who fired when Long paid no attention to the command, Boseman reported.

The men escaped from a wooden building by cutting a hole in the floor with a pocket knife.

American Falls at Niagara Dry; Caused by Ice

NIAGARA FALLS (N. Y.) Feb. 2. (P)—With the flow of water cut off by an ice jam in the Upper Niagara River, the American cataract virtually was dry today. Only a small stream trickled over the precipitous near prospect point.

John Ellis, veteran State reservation patrolman, said that the statement that the American fall was drier today than at any time in the last thirty years.

January Auto Production to Show Good Gain

CHICAGO, Feb. 2. (P)—January production of automobiles will pass the January, 1927, mark by 18 per cent, directors of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce announced today.

The passenger cars and truck output of members of the chamber will reach approximately 221,800 for the month. This is an increase of 60 per cent over December. Directors expressed opposition to toll roads, holding that all highways should be free.

Hit by Teacher, Boy Gets $5000

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (P)—A school-boy who was accidentally hit in the eye by his teacher's ruler today was awarded $5000 damages. He lost the sight of the eye.

Milton Goldberg, 16 years of age, told a jury that on March 18, 1921, while his teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth Adelman, was punishing another pupil, the ruler flew from her hand and hit him in the right eye. He sued Mrs. Adelman for $100,000.

Mrs. Adelman, who has been teaching here for twenty-five years, said she had merely been correcting with the ruler when it slipped from her grasp. She was exonerated by the Board of Education.

Justice Takes Side of Youth

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (P)—Modern youth is standing up splendidly, says Presiding Justice Hoyt of the children's court, in his annual report, which shows no appreciable increase in delinquency during the last ten years of the decade.

"In New York, at least," he says, "adolescent youth is growing no worse and is standing up splendidly under the acid test of present-day changes and conditions. Modern youth is not the menace which some have chosen to proclaim it."

FRENCH SENATE CHEERS TREATY

Ovation for Briand at News
of Peace Pact

Overtures of Stresemann
Also Answered

Result of German Election
Awaited by France

PARIS, Feb. 2. (AP)—The Senate, permeated by "the spirit of Locarno," cheered M. Briand, the Foreign Minister, today, when he announced that the sixth arbitration treaty negotiated by France in accord with the compromise pact with Germany,

probably will be signed by France and the United States on or before the 15th inst., on the occasion of the hundred and fifty anniversary of the treaty of alliance between Louis XVI

and the revolting American colonies.

M. Briand, in replying to Gustav

Stresemann, German Foreign Secretary, relative to the Rhineland occupation, remarked that the German minister was animated by conciliatory motives but he noticed at Locar-

no that whenever Herr Stresemann held out his hand, it seemed to be with the hope of pulling it back with something in it.

UP TO GERMANS

"France has given all she promised,"

he declared. "It remains for Germany to carry out the promises she made."

The Rhineland question was not a

French-German question, he continued, saying: "The occupation of the Rhineland was in pursuance of the Treaty of Versailles, shared in by our allies and associates. Essential change in the present state of things is between all the allies and Germany."

The situation results in part from the fact that the treaties signed with

England and with the United States

guaranteeing France on the Rhine failed of ratification.

M. Briand indicated plainly that France is awaiting the outcome of the German elections to see whether the Locarno pact really is supported on the other side of the Rhine.

"Internal politics are bound to keep into international negotiations

at a time when such important secretions are pending," he said, "and the consequences of this year's voting to the relations of the people

may be formidable."

WILLING TO PAY

Hardly less important than Mr.

Briand's announcement was the statement of M. Poincare, speaking in the Chamber of Deputies more in his role of Finance Minister than as Premier, that France did not ratify conventions regarding foreign debts growing out of the war because "we were not certain of our capacity to transfer each year for sixty-two years to the United States the enormous amounts involved."

"But," he continued, "as soon as we are able and as long as we are able we will pay, thus showing we are not adverse to the principle of paying to the very limit of our capacity, once more emphasizing the loyalty of France."

AIR SHAVING RACE DRAW

And Also Drawing of Blood, for
One Man Is Cut Down
Times, the Other Eleven

OAKLAND, Feb. 2. (AP)—An aerial shaving race here today between two flourish's deputies ended in a draw.

The flyers are D. A. Dison

and W. A. Sanders. Equipped with a razor apiece, each took off in a plane. The understanding was they were not to descend until shaved. The flyers landed, clean shaven, at the same time. Reporters said

Dison had cut himself twelve times and that Sanders had eleven nicks, but as the score was to be based on time and not points, it was a draw. The men acted as their own pilots.

Sister Contests

Will That Gives

Bulk to Charity

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2. (AP)—A suit contesting the will of Mrs. Clara

Smith Myer of Los Angeles was filed

today by a sister, Mrs. Ella

Thompson. The will left $25,000 to the Community Chest, $1000 to Mrs.

Thompson and $1000 to another sister in Florida.

Mrs. Thompson contends Mrs. Myer was incompetent when the will was made and seeks a "more equitable" distribution of the estate.

Mrs. Myer named the Bank of Italy

as executor.

SALES BEING PUSHED

The sales department of the vodka monopoly is pushing the sale of the government product in an effort to understand and replace the peasant's

"samogonka," a potent Russian home

brew, which is sometimes flavored with garlic. According to the commissioner children are able openly to purchase vodka in a majority of liquor stores, whose managers are eager to report increased sales.

Another reason for the prevalence of drinking among youths is that vodka is sold in sizes of bottles ranging from a fourth of a pint to half a gallon. The smallest bottle costs 15 kopecks (7 1/2 cents), especially prepared for workers desiring an eyepiece in the morning or a drink during working hours.

AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

WORK TO START ON BREAKWATER

Santa Barbara Port Project to be Completed

Unfinished Contract Assumed by Local Concern

Job Costing $400,000 Will be Finished in Year

Merritt, Chapman & Scott's loan organization will start work this morning at Santa Barbara on the $400,000 breakwater for the channel city, as the first step in the development of a modern port. Twelve months will be required to complete the project, including the use of ten pieces of floating equipment—tugs, barges and lighters—and employment of 150 men.

One-fourth of the project has already been completed by A. G. Orier of Oakland, Mr. Orier's contract with the city of Santa Barbara having been taken over by the Los Angeles concern, which has guaranteed to complete the breakwater, according to announcement by Chester Beckley, on the executive staff of Merritt, Chapman & Scott.

All equipment and personnel employed in the project will come from the Los Angeles Harbor salvage station of the firm, Mr. Beckley said.

LINEAR TAIYO MARU PLANS RETURN VISIT

Another visit to Los Angeles will be made by Nippon Yusen Kaisha's flagship, the linear Taito Maru, the 10th, 11th and 12th, ostensibly to acquire the Southland and to deliver the liner to the Japanese government. The Taito Maru will call here in June.

Open house will be held here aboard the Taito Maru the 10th with a Japanese garden party and oriental entertainment interspersed with occidental sandwiches and beverages. Incidentally a reunion is planned among members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce's excursion party, which sailed for the Orient on the Taito's previous call here two years ago.

The Bakuryo Maru passed through yesterday on route from the Orient to South America with 308 passengers, including twenty-two Japanese picture artists who will spend time on arrival in Latin ports. The vessel also discharged several Caucasian passengers and 800 tons of freight, and picked up four Americans and miscellaneous cargo.

Grace tanker San Unalio's stern frame by the new Thermite welding process, under supervision of Lloyd's surveyors, and has the Chiochi, Wilcox, Buffalo and La Brea in for various repairs. At the Los Angeles shipyards the liner Harvard is receiving annual overhaul and three new bronze propellers, and the tanker Tejon is undergoing repairs. The El Celia, recently bought by James Griffiths & Sons, also is steaming up to sail for Seattle, the last of three bought by Griffiths.

The liner City of Honolulu, newest passenger carrier of the Los Angeles line's Hawaiian fleet, is due from Honolulu this morning with 207 travelers and several thousand tons of freight. Among the 55,000 cases of canned apples, is a large consignment for transshipment to eastern ports and to Germany. Kona coffee, sugar and fresh pineapples complete the cargo.

Laosco Line's new freighter Diamond Head will sail tomorrow noon for her maiden voyage to Hawaii. Cargo on her first trip consists of the need of a strictly freight carrier, as much live stock and several polo ponies, labored from passenger vessels, will go out on the new ship. Autos, machinery, building materials, canned beef and petroleum products also are being shipped. In addition, with the rest of Laosco's fleet, the Diamond Head is painted white, one of the few white freighters about.

The German motor liner Odis of the Hamburg-American Line is due with passengers and freight from Northern Europe today. W. P. Montague agent here, announced the new motor liner San Francisco is due here April 15, as the first of four larger motorships new building in Germany for this line. She will be followed by the Los Angeles, for whose arrival a ceremonial welcome aboard is being planned. The line's globe cruiser Resolute is en route eastward and is due here with 287 passengers May 11, on her last leg to New York.

After four years of continuous service as the motorship Challenger, engines yesterday were found faultless by officials of the American Bureau of Shipping, during its machinery survey. Not a mechanical trouble developed in all that time. The vessel was built in 1924 by Sun Shipbuilding Company and powered with a four-cycle opposed piston Diesel engine. She is under charter to the Bethlehem Line and runs intercoastal.

The Bakuryo Maru passed through yesterday on route from the Orient to South America with 308 passengers, including twenty-two Japanese picture artists who will spend time on arrival in Latin ports. The vessel also discharged several Caucasian passengers and 800 tons of freight, and picked up four Americans and miscellaneous cargo.

CHEERFUL CHAFF

BY TIMES READERS

WRITE FOR THE "MOVIES" AND WIN CASH PRIZES
The Los Angeles Times produces a popular feature called "Cheerful Chaff," consisting of the twenty best jokes submitted weekly by readers. Twelve of these are awarded each week, the names and addresses of winners together with prize-winning jokes appearing on the second page.

Everyone is invited to send jokes. No formal letter is necessary. Just let your pen fly, as many as you wish, sign your name and address and mail to "Cheerful Chaff Editor," Los Angeles Times. Jokes for the second must not exceed thirty words.

Readers' jokes too long or otherwise not adapted for screen use, are accorded a place of honor on the Times comic page, receiving a certificate of acknowledgment.

LOCAL JANUARY TRADE SLACKER

First National Survey No Slight Recession

Volume Under Same Mon of Last Year

Activity in Area Proceeding at Cautious Pace

While volume of trade and industry is comparatively large and activity in the Pacific Southwest territory is proceeding cautiously, a slight decline for the first month of the new year as compared with the corresponding month of the last year was reported by the First National Trust and Savings Bank.

January bank clearings in Los Angeles were 2 per cent less than for December, whereas a small increase occurred in the San Francisco territory. A similar decline of 10 per cent from the corresponding month of the last year was reported by the First National Trust and Savings Bank.

The monthly summary of conditions issued yesterday by the First National Trust and Savings Bank, which is based on the monthly summary of conditions issued by the First National Trust and Savings Bank, shows a slight decline in the volume of trade and industry in the Pacific Southwest territory for the first month of the new year as compared with the corresponding month of the last year.

The monthly summary of conditions issued yesterday by the First National Trust and Savings Bank, which is based on the monthly summary of conditions issued by the First National Trust and Savings Bank, shows a slight decline in the volume of trade and industry in the Pacific Southwest territory for the first month of the new year as compared with the corresponding month of the last year.

QUICK START

Industry is starting the year more than usual. Production is up but many plants are operating at less than capacity. The weather is a factor in the slow start. The volume of trade and industry in the Pacific Southwest territory is proceeding cautiously, a slight decline for the first month of the new year as compared with the corresponding month of the last year was reported by the First National Trust and Savings Bank.

CITRUS OUTLOOK

Harvesting of an excellent crop is proceeding normally. The quality and prices are good and the position of the market is strong. The Imperial Valley lettuce season is in progress, promises to be the best in recent years. The cotton harvest is virtually completed. Reduced output has been offset by increased prices. The bean market has strengthened during the month. Sugar and live stock are in good condition and prices have continued to advance.

Cotton Market Slumps to New Low of Season

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (Exclusive)—The cotton market developed further weakness in today's trading with prices working into new low levels for this season from more scattered liquidation and southern selling. It followed the weakness the market displayed here at the close yesterday, resulting in another selling movement and the break at Liverpool in response to it. Spot there was off 16 points to 17.50, there was off 9.50 for middling, while futures at one time scored a maximum decline of 17 points for the old crop months and 12 for the new against 10 to 16 decline due to have met one closing of yesterday.

There was a slight rally there at the close on which prices ended with a net decline of 10 to 14 points on the day, but this did not prevent prices here from working into new low levels in the market. The maximum decline in the market by 3 o'clock was 98 points on March from the closing of yesterday, 30 on January and 26 on July, representing the old crop months and 15 to 18 on the new crop deliveries of October to December.

March sold as low as 16 7/8 here by that time, May 17.00, July 17.11, October 16.87 and December 17.00, from which there were only slight rallies in the later trading. Sentiment was much depressed again today from the lack of either substantial new trade buying or the actual spot cotton on the Liverpool and southern markets, and also the absence of substantial speculative or investment buying support in contracts here. This had such an unsettling influence after yesterday's break that there was further scattered liquidation by local holders in the South and disappointed bulls of the last several months.

From this it looked as though the liquidation and further heavy selling would have to run the course before any substantial uptick to the market, was likely to develop or the price go to a level which would invite heavy trade buying of the actual cotton in both domestic and foreign markets. An important development today was the beginning of a movement to prevent an increase in the acreage for the new crop.

It is proposed to have the governors of the different cotton-producing states of the South and communities of planters, factors and bankers' to meet at Jackson, Miss., the 20th inst. to initiate a campaign through a bill for this purpose. Already the governors of six of the largest producing states have agreed to join in the movement and those of the balance are expected to do so.

There was a slight rally there at the close on which prices ended with a net decline of 10 to 14 points on the day, but this did not prevent prices here from working into new low levels in the market. The maximum decline in the market by 3 o'clock was 98 points on March from the closing of yesterday, 30 on January and 26 on July, representing the old crop months and 15 to 18 on the new crop deliveries of October to December.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Trading in the bond market today was somewhat active than in recent days, and prices continued steady. The Federal Reserve bank's policy of making the discount rate to 3 1/2 per cent after the close of the market apparently took hold, as there had been some speculation that no such action would be taken, as there had been a rumor that the bank had been considering a move which had been expected to be made at some time in the near future.

The practical application of that principle in making sound investments and securing safe returns is a large part of our SERVICE.

Ask us to analyze your situation and point of view. No obligation.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS
NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Outside the utilities group, where new highs were prevalent, movements were mixed in the curb market today. Food chain-store stocks again were strong, and a few industrial specialties moved to higher ground, but several old favorites slumped.
Reports of coming mergers apparently influenced buying of utilities. American Light and Traction gained 13 points, net. Commonwealth Edison advanced 13 points on a small turnover, and National Electric Power & Light moved up 10 points. The Electric Bond and Share and Northern States Power moved up to a lesser extent, but all to new highs. Electric Bond and Share and Northern States Power moved up to a lesser extent, but all to new highs.
Food stocks were led upward by General Baking A and Goebel. The chain-store group generally made moderate gains on buying inspired by additional reports of favorable earnings, while Middle West's 11-point rise to a new high at 159 the feature. Tubman Oil advanced 5 points, and Bancroft, Canadian Marconi, Johns-Manville and others made small gains despite heavy profit-taking sales. Deere & Co. was hammered down more than 3 points, and Celanese fell nearly as much.
The oils were stronger in spots on news indicating increased production. Vacuum advanced 3 points to a new high at 148 1/4, and Outfit was up 1 1/2. Standard of Kentucky dropped 3 points and International Petroleum, Imperial, Pantepac and others were weaker.
New Mont Mines gained a point. Shattuck Dunn, Consolidated Copper, Golden Center and other mining shares sagged.
The above prices are quoted when same as the low, and both low and when same as the high.

MOTHER TELLS LIFE HISTORY

Father of Killer Sobs as He Relates Story

Murderer Called Paranoid by an Alienist

Another Declares He Has Cirrus Meningitis

MOTHER'S STORY
In a thin, dry and monotonous tone Mrs. Hickman told the jury her side of the case and went into detail about her youngest son, who, during her testimony, sat within a few feet of her. She was not cross-examined.

Alfred Hickman, the first of the family to go on the stand, told his story in a matter-of-fact way and added little to the facts already before the jury about his brother's school days.

A huge pocket knife, with a blade more than three inches long, was introduced into evidence by Chief Cline and identified as the weapon used by young Hickman for the gruesome dissection of little Marion. The jury blade with which the child was dismembered was pointed out to the jury by Chief Cline, who said that Hickman had confessed to him that he had used it because of its sharpness.

REPEATS ONE REMARK

Hunt, who is charged with Hickman with the slaying of C. Ivy Toms, Roosevelt drugist, on Christmas Eve of 1926, gave his testimony without looking at his former pal, and confined his remarks to repeating Hickman's one statement and admitting that he had come to Los Angeles with the defendant in an automobile which was stolen in Kansas. "I thought it was a foolish idea," Hunt explained to the jury that "I thought it was a foolish idea."

A short but terrific cross-examination conducted by Dist. Atty. Keyes was the high spot on the testimony of the elder Hickman. During the barrage of questions hurled at the father he ceased his sobbing and snapped back answers as fast as the questions came.

SCORED BY KEYES
"So you wish to give this jury to understand, do you," said Keyes in his last question to the witness, "that you deserted an insane woman with her five children?"

"I did not desert them," was the answer scored this question, although both by records and the earlier portion of his own testimony the father admitted leaving his wife and five children when the youngest was less than six years of age.

Hickman, who upon the conclusion of his testimony intimated to the court that his leave of absence from his work in El Paso, Tex., was up and that he must return at once, passed his presence seemed to be the way of the court room and spoke to her, but she did not respond or even glance in his direction.

Mrs. Hickman stood the ordeal of revealing her own history to the crowded courtroom and jury much better than her former husband. Without shedding a tear the white-haired woman, who had to be assisted to the witness chair by

Principal Witness at Yesterday's Session

Nemesis of Slayer and His Parents
Left to right—Chief of Detectives Cline, Mrs. Eva Hickman, mother of the slayer, and Thomas Hickman, the father.

IN INSANE ASYLUM
She told of her detention in an insane asylum shortly after Edward's birth, and also corroborated her husband's charge that she had suffered from mental ailments that caused her from time to time to threaten both suicide and murder of her whole family. She told of an attempted suicide and stated her mental condition was always much worse just before the birth of her various children and reached a climax a few months before Edward, her youngest son, was born.

"At times I hated my husband, and many times I told him that I would kill him," Mrs. Hickman testified. She also attested the court-room by announcing that the infant, who twenty years later was to slay the little Parker girl, was himself born dead, but was revived after doctors had worked over him for hours. "My mind at times was blank, and I cannot now recall all of the things that I did," Mrs. Hickman said, "although some of my actions and thoughts are still very plain."

IN PLAIN BLUE DRESS
From time to time Mrs. Hickman wore a very plain dark-blue dress and no hat, would stop in her testimony and whimper like a child, although her eyes never became moist. Her whole story was told with scarcely an inflection of her voice, except at the beginning when she was asked by Defense Counsel Canfield if the defendant bore any relation to her.

"He is my youngest son," Mrs. Hickman made this announcement after hesitation and in a trembling tone.

The only interesting feature in the elder brother's testimony was his remarks about his grandfather, whom he asserted was insane, and charged him with becoming so violently angry at times that he would take off his hat and throw it on the ground and jump on it while tearing his hair. Along with his mother and father, Alfred said that in his opinion his younger brother was insane and unable to differentiate between right and wrong.

THEN THE ALIENISTS
Following the dramatic moments of the day alienists produced by the defense closed the court session with a strictly scientific note. Dr. Pettis, who was the first to go on the witness stand, testified he had made a complete examination of the defendant and found him to be suffering with cirrus meningitis. The doctor also testified that Hickman had two gold teeth and sonotonia, as well as some kind of an ailment which affected his shoulders and elbows. He went to explain that cirrus meningitis is an inflammation of the covering of the brain. The defense doctor also asserted something was wrong with the way Hickman's spinal fluid reacted to the test.

Dr. Shelton, the next to testify, said Hickman is suffering from cirrus meningitis, and then started out with the life history of this popular form of American insanity. He discussed for more than half an hour the four different types of this insanity and had taken up at great length the first, or simple type, before he informed the jury that the defendant was not suffering from this variety.

CALLS HIM PARANOID
Later he said Hickman is suffering with a megalomania. He also spoke of the killer as being afflicted with the third type of dementia praecox, and should be classed as a paranoid.

Dr. Shelton attested the court at the conclusion of yesterday's session when he said he will need at least three hours more to complete his remarks to the jury.

During the morning session Miss Naomi Britten, an attendant in the Mount Vernon school, from which Hickman was kidnapped, together with Mrs. Mary Holt, a teacher, told how the child was taken away, and Police Inspector Longuevan testified he had witnessed the various written statements made by the defendant.

P. B. Peck, of 1843 Cherokee street, told how Hickman held him up and stole his automobile on the Sunday night following the murder. L. C. Mole, a newspaper man, testified to various conversations with the murderer.

Hickman sat undisturbed and apparently unaffected by the day's testimony, while the huge crowd still gathered outside the courtroom struggling for seats.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

Dr. Frank McCoy
author of "The Four F's to Health"

Dr. McCoy with lesser personal attention on health and diet, addressed his clinic, care of The Los Angeles Times. Several thousand, additional guests for lunch.

INSANITY AND TOXEMIA

It seems reasonable to assume that mental disease may be caused by some kind of mental toxin.

Many types of mental instability, accompanied by illusions and hallucinations, have been shown by psychiatrists to be caused by toxins in the blood.

Q: Kind of fruit wherever I advise a patient to eat?

A: Mrs. J. L. asks: Is there a fruit called the cloudberry, and where is it found?

A: The cloudberry is a fruit native of the Arctic regions, and sometimes found as far south as the southern limit of the tundra.

Q: B. G. M. asks: Will you please tell me what is the most enlarged place on a child's lip which has been out with glass? Has whitish center. Many thanks. I enjoy and profit by your articles in this paper.

psychanalysts the causes of insanity which might come from a general toxemia of the whole organism. I have never observed a case of insanity where I observed a case of insanity where this toxic cause did not exist—at least as one of the causes—and in most cases it seems to me that auto-toxemia is really the primary cause of most mental disorders.

In my practice I never waste time looking for mental causes until after gery. There is no hurry about having this done, as it usually causes some pain, but it might be well to wait until the child is older, where he will not be so affected by the pain created by the surgical cut of the burn.

ARCHITECTS TO MAKE MERRY.
Members of architectural societies of Los Angeles and vicinity will join thoroughly cleansed of all toxic wastes. The patient's treatment programme has been described in detail elsewhere.<sup>1</sup> Following the advice and arrangements for which we are under the supervision of Walter Davis, the combined organizations will sponsor a new architectural competition.

No less than thirty-eight women are seeking seats in the British Parliament at the next elections in England.

Intestinal organs and constipation are the primary causes to the discomfort caused by functional inactivity and negative emotional desires.

One of the best methods of quickly moving toxic wastes is by the use of the enema. This also temporarily relieves constipation and helps to produce a more healthful tone throughout all the pelvic organs.

Every case of dementia praecox could be given a few days' fruit fast pressure, which has been due to relaxation of the stomach and intestines. When the prolapsed digestive organs are comparatively free from distention there is, of course, much less pressure upon the generative organs and the nervous system. The relief from the usual causes caused by prolapsus and the elimination of bodily toxins will do as much as deal to help a cure of any form

Write to me in care of this newspaper for my special article called "Opium-Intoxication," if you wish. I will gladly mail same to you upon receipt of a large, stamped, addressed envelope for reply. A fifty-five cent stamp of all cases of insanity could be greatly helped if given the treatment with ememas and fasting, followed by a careful diet. My experience has shown that
